A Note for Teachers

Dear Educators,

We're thrilled to release this exclusive reading journal to pair alongside your instruction and facilitation of Summer of the Mariposas in the classroom. This journal is designed to be flexible and adaptable for all your teaching needs, with a special emphasis on student creativity. The features you will see included in this guide are suggested vocabulary per chapter, lines for writing prompts and blank boxes for other relevant work.

There are four sections for each chapter of the reading journal, as described below:

- Line Art: Original art by author Guadalupe García McCall unique to each chapter. Students can use these illustrations to capture character dialogue, thoughts, and feelings; experiment with comic strip writing; or sketch out the significant plot or character development.
- Blank Box: Students can use this space to create a T-chart, Venn Diagram, word clouds, and more.
- Lines: Students can use this section to write their warm-up, complete an exit ticket, respond to a discussion question, or create a journal entry.
- Vocabulary: Critical vocabulary words are listed in a column for students to refer to throughout their reading, building on their content-specific and academic language. Each of the words listed is included in the book's glossary.

As a gentle reminder, this is a supplemental tool for educators to use and is meant to complement any other lessons or plans. As always, please feel free to give us any feedback on how to improve our support for educators. We hope you enjoy the beauty and joy of Summer of the Mariposas!
